STATE TO ASSIST IN OBSERVING ROADS' DAY

Charleroi Workers Promised Aid by District Engineer

TO FURNISH ALL STONE

Material Needed in Work to be Given Free—Highway Men Interested

The state highway department will assist in the repairing of roads in the vicinity of Charleroi on Good Roads' Day next Tuesday. District Engineer Alexander B. Gray, who is in charge of the state highway department district of which Washington county is a part and L. C. Bitzer the state road supervisor who has been in charge of the work of resurfacing Lincoln avenue extension for the state, have promised their aid.

Engineer Gray and Bitzer attended the meeting of the Charleroi Good Roads' enthusiasts held on Friday evening at the rooms of the Charleroi Business Men's Association, and gave definite promises as to the work they will do.

All necessary crushed stone will be furnished by Engineers Gray and Bitzer. They will make available the stone crusher which has been used in the preparation of material for resurfacing the state road.

Engineers Gray and Bitzer agreed to meet with the Charleroi committee and citizens next Monday and to assist in the laying of final plans for the observance of Good Roads' Day on Tuesday. Mr. Gray is a member of the central committee for Good Roads' day having headquarters at Washington.

The number of names that have been given into the good road committee to work May 26 has reached 130. One hundred and one names have already been published. The following is the list of 29 additional names: Cary Piper, U. S. Orange, W. D. Orange, Harry Davis, "Dick" Hierneaux, Matthew Wilson, J. H. Frye, A. B. Reed, Joe Haube, Joe Iose, J. Heinworth, T. Wein, H. Porter, J. B. Bowers, P. Pardini, William Hudspeth, Grover Caster, Otto Boehme, George M. Fellows, P. J. DePrez, T. Tomlinson, C. A. Martucio, B. R. Strauss, J. J. Sonnenlitter, George Johnson, H. Cantrell, Earl Taylor, Roy Sharpneck and H. E. Price.

CLARKSBURG TAKES GAME FROM THE FAIRMONTERS

Clarksburg took the third game of the series from Fairmont on Friday by the score of 7 to 2. Score by innings: Clarksburg ... 1 0 2 0 1 0 3 0 *—7 Fairmont ... 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 —2 Batteries: Clarksburg, Uhlman and Oldaker; Fairmont, Keener and Carlton.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR WAR VETERANS

Special memorial services will be held at the Washington avenue Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. John R. Burson will make the address. The church choir under the direction of J. F. Bowman will furnish the music.

Locating Fountain

First One Being Placed on Fifth Street Near McKean Avenue

A drinking fountain is being placed on Fifth street by the First National Bank building. The fountain was purchased several months ago by the borough but it could not be placed. This will be the only drinking fountain in Charleroi.

The water is cooled by passing through a coil of pipe in a drum filled with ice. There is absolutely no chance for dirt or impure substance to get into the water.

VETERAN CRIMEAN WAR DIES

Alfred Lang, of Allenport, Succumbs in Pittsburg

WAS LONG A SLOIDER

Death has again visited the Lang home near Allenport. March 30 a son A. J. Lang, 32 years of age died just six weeks later, Monday, May 11, a daughter, Mrs. Florence M. Bamford, answered the death summons. Now, just nine days later, the aged father died.

The deceased, Alfred J. Lang was born in Bolton, Lancashire county, England in 1889. When but 11 years old he joined the army, becoming a member of the riding school. As long as he remained in England he was a member of the English army. He fought in the Crimean war. Hearing of the struggle in the United States he had a desire to come over and fight to help save the Union. There was only one way for him to do so and that was by deserting the English army. He attempted twice to get away and failed. The third time he tried to desert he succeeded. The captain of the vessel he sailed on was an old friend of his father and concealed him in the hold of his vessel. The same day he reached his adopted country he enlisted as a soldier in Fourth Massachusetts volunteer cavalry. He was soon promoted to orderly under General Gibbons. He also served under Meade and Thomas. Being noted for his bravery he was called on to carry dispatches at all hours of the night while in the army of the Potomac. He fought under the stars and stripes in seven important battles. At the battle of Farmville, Virginia, he was wounded in the shoulder and captured by the enemy. He was given a parole of honor, agreeing not to take part in any battle.

GUN PLAY RESULTS IN DEATH OF ONE

Killing Takes Place in West Newton Late Friday Night—State Police Searching for Robert Murray, the Accused Man

Gun play that might have found a parallel in a western mining camp during the adventurous period of '47 took place at West Newton Friday night at 10:30. One man, Robert Steiner is dead. Robert Murray, who is said to be a westerner is being hunted by the state police and police in all the towns and cities of Western Pennsylvania accused of murder. He is thought to have come toward the Monongahela valley and the countryside is being scoured for trace of the man.

The trouble is said to have occurred after a serious quarrel between the two men. Steiner was well known about West Newton. Murray came here from Myersdale some time ago. Two hours after the shooting the state police were placed at work on the case. Thirteen men from the barracks at Greensburg in uniform were sent to various regions and the Monessen detachment under Sergeant McLaughlin was put on the case.

At noon today two of the West Newton detachment came to Charleroi and left the description of the wanted man here. Murray is described as a man five feet tall and a man of slender build. His left arm is paralyzed, causing a droop of his left shoulder. He wears a yellowish brown suit, and a broad brimmed hat, and is supposed to be carrying a knife and a .32-calibre gun.

ADELPHIAN SOCIETY ANNEXES VICTORY

Literary Contest Productive of Lively Interest at High School—Winners Receive Trophy Cup

The first annual literary contest between the Athenian and Adelpian literary societies, of the Charleroi high school was held Friday night at the high school auditorium. The Adelpian society got seven points to three of the Athenian. The trophy cup, given by John B. Schafer, was presented by Prof. T. L. Pollock, superintendent of the schools, to John Gaut, president of the Adelpian society, who made the speech of acceptance.

The original story was won by Miss Helen Fleming of the Adelpian society, and counted one and one-half points. Miss Fleming was opposed by Miss Ruth Cleburne of the Athenian.

The reading, contested for by Miss Mary Welch, of the Adelpian and Miss Esther Wyatt, of the Athenian was won by Miss Wyatt. This counted one and one-half points.

MOTORDROME RACES BEGIN IN PITTSBURG

Today will open the Pittsburg Motordrome season in Pittsburg, a big street parade to be given.

All the fastest motor cycle riders in the world will be seen this season at the East End Motordrome, Pittsburg. The big money purses offered at American tracks have proved an attractive bait and have lured the pick of the foreign riders to this side. When the crack of the pistol sends the first flyers around the big wooden track in Pittsburg tonight at 8 it will signalize the opening of the greatest speed year in the history of racing. High-powered machines that reeled off miles under 40 seconds last season have been improved. The dizzy whirl in the Motordrome saucer will be intensified during the summer of 1914.

The big Motordrome in Pittsburg has been reconstructed. Billy Vanderry, known on the board tracks of America as "Speedy Van," directed the work of putting it into condition.

TENTS FOR PATIENTS WITH TUBERCULOSIS

Miss Marie Watson, the nurse in charge of the state tuberculosis dispensary at Monessen, has a plan for helping the tubercular patients, who are on the waiting list for the state sanitariums.

Her plan is to place tents large enough for four beds in the grove surrounding the Charleroi-Monessen hospital and move these patients into them. The expense of supplying these tents to be born half by Monessen and half by Charleroi.

The Sunday schools are being asked to help. A tag day may be arranged so as to raise part of the money. Miss Watson anticipates some help from Westmoreland and Washington counties.

Demonstration Tonight.

The H. J. Heinz company of Pittsburg is giving a demonstration of a few of their famous 57 varieties at the Star Meat Market, Fallowfield avenue tonight. Call around and see us. Positively no requests to buy will be made.

BASEBALL SEASON IS OPENED AUSPICIOUSLY

Veterans to Reunite

Spanish-American War Fighters Lay Plans for Big Gathering

Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States will hold their annual reunion in Pittsburg September 14, 15, 16, and 17 of this year. The society was formed by Brigadier General Irving Hale, at Denver, Colorado, in 1900. It has a membership of more than 50,000. Soldiers who took part in the Spanish-American war, the Philippine insurrection and the China relief expedition are eligible to membership. All told there are about 400,000 persons who are entitled to membership by right of service.

Burgesses of Two Towns and Citizens. Celebrate Occasion.

TWO SPEECHES MADE

Woodward and Dunlap Speak

Then Charleroi Turns in and Beats McKeesport

Charleroi and the community celebrated on Friday in honor of the opening here of the Pennsylvania West Virginia league. The community celebrated two ways. First it celebrated by means of a parade over the principal streets of Monessen and then the team celebrated by annexing a game from the McKeesport team by the score of 9 to 6.

The parade began about 1:45 o'clock and led by the Charleroi Cornet band in a large motor truck the line headed for Monessen. James J. Hott was the marshal and he on horseback conducted the motor cars over the principal streets of that borough. The autos returned to Charleroi and the parade was continued to the ball park.

Arriving at the park the Charleroi band formed at the entrance gate on Second street and led the players and honor guests in a march to center field and then by platoon style toward the grandstand. The Hunter band connected with the Hunter shows at Monessen was in line. The McKeesport players preceded the Charleroi players.

President Paul B. Wreath said a few words in introducing Burgess S. L. Woodward of Charleroi who made a few remarks. Then he presented Burgess A. G. Dunlap of Monessen, who spoke briefly. President H. A. Mackinnon of the league was presented to the fans, but he made no speech.

The duty of President Mackinnon was to officially open the box containing the baseball to be first tossed out. He handed it to Burgess Woodward, who hunted the pitcher's box and hurled it at the plate, behind which Burgess A. G. Dunlap of Monessen was stationed his duty being to catch the sphere. With all the formal ceremonies over and the field practice of both teams ended, Umpire Mayou called time and the struggle was on. Charleroi took the field and McKeesport's first three batters were easy out.

Schafer for Charleroi was given a walk. He was advanced by Coatsworth who manipulated a hit by laying the ball in front of the plate. O'Day was out at first. McWilliams and Madden both singled and brought in two runs.

In the third inning, McKeesport found Kelleway's delivery for five hits for eight bases and tallied four runs. Charleroi got them back in their half of the inning when they scored three. They did it by Schafer getting a walk, McWilliams hitting for three bases and Madden singling.

Manager O'Day supplanted Kelleway in the box by Steenberg in the first of the fifth and that gentleman kept McKeesport guessing. In the sixth inning the Braves soaked the horsehide for two hits, one of them being a double, which coupled with good base running on the part of McVeigh and Bartlett, tallied them.

WHAT MISSOURI DID.

The idea of a volunteer Good Roads day originated in the minds of some of the progressive and enterprising men of our western states, says the Washington Observer.

We believe that Missouri was either the first or among the first states to inaugurate such a movement.
Many other states in the west took it up last year and more are in line this year.

We believe that Washington county is the first county in Pennsylvania to attempt the experiment.

A summary of the work done in the state of Missouri or rather of the results achieved through the Good Roads day last year has been made.
More than 200,000 persons worked on the public roads each day—a half a million volunteer days of labor in favor of a better agriculture resultant from better roads.

Counting the cash donated, free materials and implements, free use of cars and teams, together with all labor incident to the Good Roads days, there was fully one and one-half million dollars in improvements placed upon the public roads during those two days.

Another result—not strictly definite but as true as gospel this—Good Roads days have aroused the state pride as never before. Missouri has received the approving smile of every state and nation. The people have become more so than ever before, good roads boosters and good roads builders.

Formerly it was the town men who roted for good roads more than the farmer—today the farmer has marched ahead of the city and town folk in his love for passable roads. The Missouri farmer is coming into his own and today it is reasonable to predict that the state is going to push ahead and perfect its rightful claim to have all their dirt roads passable all the year around. As unanswerable proof that Missouri is now a good roads state, it is necessary to mention that during 1913 there was spent in that state in labor, materials and road improvements (including road bridges) over eight millions of dollars.

The results which will come to Washington county from the Good Roads day next Tuesday, May 26, will be fully as great as that secured

CHARLEROI'S OPENING GAME

Amid the music of bands and the excitement which prevailed as an incidental to the opening of the Pennsylvania-West Virginia league season in Charleroi, people were likely to forget the real significance of the occasion

For the first time in five years Charleroi is on the baseball map with a professional team, and with better chances if anything of success in its baseball endeavors than it ever had before. Operated as the Charleroi club is this year—as an individual institution—the club stands a chance of patronage that it would not get under any other circumstances.
As for the team itself, well, Charleroi has some players that will be heard from later, as were players who played in former leagues of which Charleroi was a part.

Baseball as the national pastime gets deservedly good support elsewhere. Support is all that is asked by the new Pennsylvania West Virginia league. Conducted as a business institution by business men, it should get that.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

There were dark rings around his eyes and he had not slept for a week, says an exchange. Slowly he climbed the stairs to the office of the young lawyer.

"It's like this," he said. "My neighbor, Jones, has a cat. It sits and yowls on my back fence night after night. I don't want to make trouble with Jones, but I can't stand this any longer. What shall I do? Haven't I a right to shoot the cat?"

"I would hardly say that," replied the man of law. "The cat does not belong to you, as I understand it."

"No but the fence does."

"Then," advised the lawyer, "I think it is safe to say you have a perfect right to tear down the fence."

Roy K. Moulton, a space writer for a syndicate tells as follows how to write a sentimental song:

First, select a sentimental subject, such as love, mortgage on the old farm, midnight in the graveyard or grandfather's false teeth—a subject that will appeal.

Write all of the slush you can think of on the subject and make it rhyme so far as possible. There is no iron-clad rules as to the rhyming. You can make "given" rhyme with "heaven," or you can make "river" rhyme with "fever," and if the singer slurs badly enough nobody will ever know the difference.

After you have finished the heartbreaking poem have some picture show pianist set it to ragtime music.

Send it to the publishing house and sign a contract giving you one-tenth of 1 per cent of the net earnings. In that way you may make as much as $3.25 on it if the song goes well, besides getting your full name on the outside cover.

SHOWED INSTINCT OF SWANS

Birds Had Learned the Trick of Ringing a Bell to Get Their Supply of Food.

During a recent visit to the cathedral city of Wells, in Somersetshire, a Scottish correspondent was witness of a curious incident. The Episcopal palace is surrounded, just as in olden times, by a wall and a moat, the haunt of swans, ducks, and other aquatic birds. The moat is crossed at the entrance to the palace grounds by a drawbridge with a battlemented gateway with towers, in one of which is the gatekeeper's lodge. From a platform fixed in the wall of one of the towers overlooking the moat a bell is suspended, with a cord attached.

One afternoon about five o'clock, while watching the movements of the various birds in the water, the correspondent heard the ringing of a bell, and on looking to see whence the sound came, he observed that one of the swans was vigorously pulling the cord evidently to attract attention. As soon as the bell was rung, the gatekeeper's notice was taken of its sound, the impatient bird continued to ring the bell violently until there appeared at the window of the tower the wife of the gatekeeper, who threw out a quantity of food to the expectant waterfowl.

On making inquiries as to the origin of this interesting episode, the correspondent was told that a number of years ago a daughter of the bishop of Wells, being much interested in the birds inhabiting the moat, taught the swans to ring the bell at feeding-time, at five o'clock in the afternoon. This practice has been continued by successive families of swans down to the present day, and it would seem, therefore, as if the birds transmitted to their offspring the knowledge that when the cord was pulled the bell would ring and that food would follow.

DEMAND FOR FURS ENORMOUS

That the World's Supply Will in Time
Be Exhausted May Be Considered Certain.

The fur trade in the far north is still on very much the same basis as when Cartier and Champlain first traded beads and knickknacks with the wandering chiefs of Quebec. A million and a half dollars' worth of merchandise goes north from Edmonton, Canada, every spring to be exchanged for the two and a half millions of fur that come back in midsummer and autumn. So far as the fur trade in America is concerned, the traders claim that there is no perceptible falling off as yet; that, in fact, more fur is being brought to market each year. But in Russia, Germany, Japan and Australia there is a general decrease in the supply. In the past 20 years the world's catch of the 12 most important furs has fallen off from five per cent, to 700 per cent, while the demand for the more expensive varieties has multiplied enormously. The ceaseless effort to satisfy this demand can have but one end, and it is only logical to expect that even the great game preserves of the Canadian north and Alaska will in time be hunted bare.

National Pride.

The belief that all foreigners are inferior to one's own people is not peculiar to the so-called civilized nations. Professor Sumner of Yale used to call this national egotism "ethnocentrism," and cited an instance of it from a message sent south by a native Greenland, extolling his land and its inhabitants as greatly superior to the countries and races of white men. In the Journal of Religious Psychology the anthropologist Cranz is quoted as saying:

"The Greenlanders consider themselves as the only civilized nation in the world. They are far superior in their own estimation to the Europeans, who supply an inexhaustible subject of raillery for their social parades. They do not appreciate the attitude of arrogant superiority adopted by many white men in their intercourse with so-called savages."

Organization of Transportation.

The proposed imposition of a tax on the importation of bananas has served to draw attention to the remarkable organization of the business of transporting bananas. The fruit is packed while green and rushed thousands of miles in a few days before it ripens. So carefully is this business of transportation organized that millions of bananas are brought from the tropics and sold so cheaply as to be within reach of all. As a precaution against loss due to the ripening of the fruit because of a delay in transportation, every fruit vessel is equipped with a wireless plant. If a fruit vessel is delayed, a wireless call is quickly sent out for help, and assistance is rushed to the disabled vessel, so that the shipment is expedited in every way.

Singers' Little Ways.

Caruso tells us that he knows a prima donna who occupies herself in trimming hats on the days when she sings, believing that this provides a distraction and rests her nerves.
Another crosses herself repeatedly before taking her cue, and one famous singer known throughout Europe is in the habit of kissing her mother goodbye and receiving her blessing before going on to sing.

A well-known pianist used to carry a black cat about with her wherever she played. Doubtless there are many who are similarly superstitious, though they may not readily own to it.—Manchester Evening News.

SISTER: READ MY FREE OFFER!

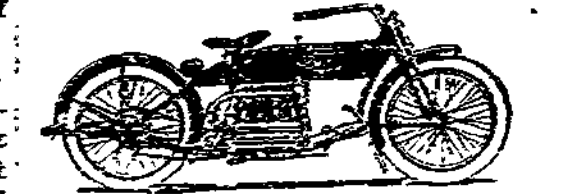

I am a woman.
I know a woman's trials.
I know her need of sympathy and help.
If you, my sister, are unhappy because of ill-health, if you feel unfit for household duties, social pleasures, or daily employment, write and tell me just how you suffer, and ask for my free ten days' trial of a home treatment suited to your needs. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any man. I want to tell you how to cure yourself at home at a cost of about 10 cents a week.
If you suffer from women's peculiar ailments causing pain in the head, back, or bowels, feeling of weight and dragging-down sensation, failing or displacement of pelvic organs, causing kidney and bladder weakness or constipation and piles, painful or irregular periods, catarrhal conditions and discharges, extreme nervousness, depressed spirits, melancholy, desire to cry, fear of something evil about to happen, creeping feeling along the spine, palpitation, hot flashes, weariness, sallow complexion with dark circles under the eyes, pain in the left breast, or a general feeling that life is not worth living,—

I INVITE YOU TO SEND TODAY FOR MY FREE TEN DAYS' TREATMENT and learn how those ailments can be easily and surely conquered at home without the dangers and expense of an operation. When you are cured, and able to enjoy life again, you can pass the good word along to some other sufferer. My home treatment is for young or old. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain how to overcome green sickness (chlorosis), irregularities, headaches, and lassitude in young women and restore them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember, it costs you nothing to give my home treatment a ten days' trial, and does not interfere with daily work. If health is worth asking for, then accept my generous offer and write for the free treatment, including my illustrated booklet, "Woman's Own Medical Adviser." I will send all in plain wrappers postpaid. To save time, you can cut out this offer, mark your feelings, and return to me.

Send today, as you may not see this offer again. Address,
MRS. M. SUMMERS, Box 8, SOUTH BEND, IND.

Its a Mistake

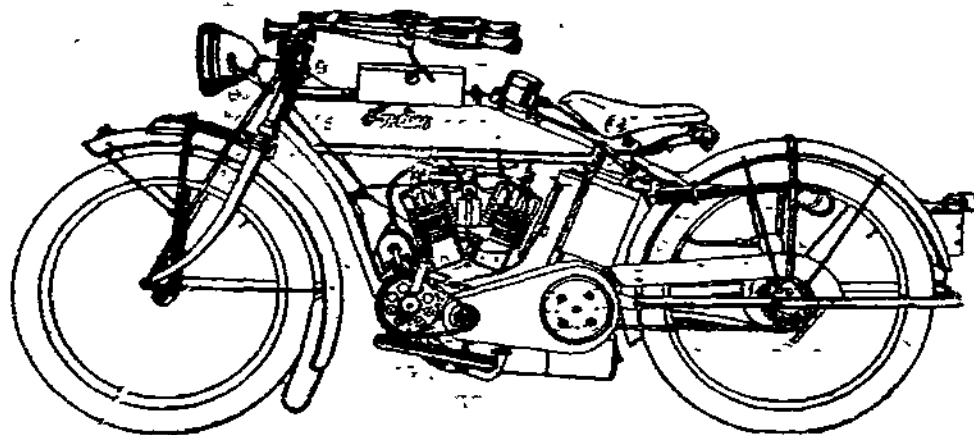

Made By Many Charleroi Residents
Many people in a misguided effort to get rid of kidney backache, rely on plaster, liniments and other makeshifts. The right treatment is kidney treatment and a remarkably recommended kidney medicine is Doan's Kidney Pills. Charleroi is no exception.

The proof is at your very door. The following is an experience typical of the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Charleroi.

Mrs. W. Urten, 736 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago and they cured me of kidney disease. Another of the family had lumbago and suffered from severe pains in his back. The trouble was brought on by colds which settled in his kidneys. He got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Piper's Pharmacy and took them. The backaches were relieved in a short time. There is nothing to retract from my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. I am only too glad to recommend them again." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Urten had. BASEBALL SPARKS

Some of the players tried to coax Heinie Denters to attend a movie show. "No, I don't want to," replied Denters. "Aw, come on Heinie one said 'it won't spoil your batting eye.'"

One of the prettiest plays of the opener was the double play by Brasel, who snatched the sailing sphere from the breeze on McVeigh's hit and touched Rusche as he came down. Brasel's playing was of the best, with two b.s. live putouts, three assists and a stolen base. His one error was excusable.

The game scheduled at Charleroi on June 1 with Clarksburg has been postponed upon the request of Manager Shannon of the latter team, who desires to play an exhibition contest on that date. A double header will be played here June 5.

Danton, the left-hand pitcher has been let go and John Potter of Uniontown who last year tried out with Bill Phillips' Feds, has asked for a trial.

Madden played a swell game in left and got three hits. Incidentally he mentioned something about the umpire being a tramp, but when Madden doesn't say something like that admirably of the umpire. It is a tam game.

Heinie Denters dropped Fletcher's leader at third but redeemed himself with a pretty play in the same inning on Crompton's clout.

A Pittsburgh Press photographer was on the job and got some good pictures.

Steenberg is a good fielding pitcher. In fact once he fielded almost too well on a bunt for upon turning to throw to first he found nobody covering the bag.

Schafer pulled one out of the air that looked naughty, but for star field work he had a close rival in Crompton.

McWilliams bat was loaded with three substantial bingles.

Kelleway had the stuff until the third, when his delivery was treated horribly.

Wolfe's home went nearly to the farthest corner of the fence.

President Mackinnon was much pleased with the opener.

two runs. By the way these were the last scores McKeesport secured.

The Magics scored two runs in the seventh and two in the eighth. This in brief is the way it happened. Schafer got on through a shortstop error. Coatsworth fouled out. O'Day singled. McWilliams singled. Schafer came across and he was followed by O'Day. With two down Wolfe batted out his glorious home run in the eighth inning. Steenberg next up after Wolfe hit for three bases and came in on an error a moment later. The score:

TURN TO LITTLE PIG

PHYSICIANS WILL IMPRESS HIM FOR GRAFTING PURPOSES.

Idea Put Forward That It Is Not Necessary for Human Beings to Sacrifice Cuticle in Interests of Their Fellow Men.

The latest martyr to science is the little pig. When occasion demands—and it will do so with increasing frequency—he is not even to have the privilege of keeping his hide until he grows up to go to the packing house. From time to time, if he be healthy, he is likely to be seized, etherized, scrubbed, disinfected, sterilized, shaved and peeled in order to save a human life or to prevent necessity of the sacrifice of cuticle by one person to save the life of another. For the little pig, according to Dr. C. S. Venable of San Antonio, Tex., one of the foremost of the younger surgeons of the United States, has just been discovered to be the best existing source of supply of skin for grafting purposes.

"I believe," Dr. Venable told the Medical Association of the Southwest, "that it will not be necessary in the future for men and women to give up their skin for the sake of others. The skin of swine, if taken when the animal is from two to six months old, can be grafted upon a human being more successfully than the skin of another human being."

"In course of my experiments I have found that the grafting of pig skin is successful in from 75 to 100 per cent. of the attempts. The skin of frogs, guinea pigs, dogs, cats and human beings averages only from 32 to 50 per cent. of 'takes.' The little pig, therefore, is the most promising source of supply of which we know now."

"It is the recognized rule of skin grafting that skin from a lower organism will grow upon the body of a higher organism, while the attempt will not be successful if the conditions are reversed. The pig is, of course, a low organism compared to man, and fortunately, in spite of this difference, the texture of its skin is very much like that of the human being. It is also about the same thickness. Further, it has a high degree of cell hardiness and cell proliferation, two very important factors."

"A further advantage in the use of pig skin is that the supply is plentiful and easily obtained. This means that extensive operations in skin grafting may be carried on with much greater rapidity than is now possible. Of course transferring skin from one part of the patient's body to another is preferable to all other forms of skin grafting, but often this cannot be done, owing to the large area of flesh which has been denuded of its covering."

Boy's Honesty Rewarded.

Little Willie Hinson, a sixteen-year-old colored boy employed by John D. Sticht, 1147 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, is a very honest youngster, for he found a gold watch and fob, lost by Miss Alice Barnes Shaffer, and without consulting anybody raced as fast as his legs would carry him to the Classon avenue station house and there deposited his find with the lieutenant on the desk, saying: "Will you see that this gets to the lady what lost it?"

Were it not for the fact that Mrs. Jessie F. Barnes Schaffer, mother of the young woman who dropped her watch and fob, had advertised her loss the jewelry might still be in the property department at police headquarters unclaimed. But Willie saw the "lost ad" and went to 243 Carlton avenue, the home of Mrs. Schaffer, with the news: "Lady, I found your watch at Lafayette and Classon avenues, and I gave it in at the station house." A phone call to police headquarters confirmed what Willie had said.

Mrs. Schaffer gave the boy a substantial reward. She said: "It is not the trouble for which I want to reward you, Willie, it is your honesty."

Find Health in Walking.

During the glorious days of early winter women who are looking for health should take up the simple exercise of walking. If possible a walking tour of two or three days, or even a week, should be arranged for the autumnal season, as the greatest amount of benefit will be derived from such an excursion.

Many women make the mistake of thinking that only the very robust should indulge in such an experiment. As a matter of fact, no greater error could possibly be made, as there is nothing which helps more to build up the body, soothe fretted nerves and rest a tired brain than just a simple walking tour. If delicate women took a week's walking tour there would be a remarkable decrease in the number of nervous complaints from which so many suffer. Insomnia, with all its attendant evils: neurasthenia, loss of appetite, depression of spirits, gradually disappear in the course of a walking tour. It has a perfectly marvelous power in restoring strength and giving tone to the system.

Hears Sermon Over Telephone.

A telephone in church has enabled Mrs. Vanhorn of Bridgeport, Conn., to hear the regular service of her church. Mrs. Vanhorn has been an invalid for 30 years, and unable to leave her bed, having the service by wire comes as a great boon to her.

GOOD GAMES FOR PIRATES COMING WEEK

The next week in the baseball world promises to be a most interesting one to the Pittsburgh Pirates, the National League leaders and accordingly of like particular interest to the followers hereabouts of Clarke and his pennant-chasing crew. After the Philadelphia team comes the Brooklyn club, the latter making their appearance the first of next week, and then for the end of that week, including the two Decoration Day games, the Cincinnati Reds will be at the Forbes Field stadium. Probably the greatest surprise is the Cincinnati club. Under the management of Buck Herzog, the old New York Giant third baseman, the Cincinnati team is putting up a game that bids fair to make them one of the most serious contenders in the present race. Fred Clarke will have his strongest lineup in shape for the Decoration Day games—all of which means that there should be a battle royal at Forbes Field on that day between these two pennant contenders. The games will be called as usual at 10:30 and 3 o'clock.

CHARLEROI TEAM AWAY NEXT WEEK

Charleroi will play six games next week. Five of the games will be played away from home, and the Memorial Day games will be played here with McKeesport on Saturday afternoon.

Saturday's game will begin at 3 o'clock sharp. It will be the sixth game to be played between Charleroi and McKeesport, and will be the only game played on the home ground next week.

Next weeks schedule for the Charleroi "Magics" is as follows:

Monday, May 25, Charleroi at Uniontown.

Tuesday, May 26, Charleroi at Uniontown.

Wednesday, May 27, Charleroi at Connellsville.

Thursday, May 28, Charleroi at Connellsville.

Friday, May 29, no game.

Saturday, May 30, Charleroi in the morning will play McKeesport at McKeesport and in the afternoon will play McKeesport here.

Sunday, May 31, Charleroi at Fairmont.

UNIONTOWN SEASON OPENS: ONIONS LOSE THEIR THIRD

Uniontown opened its home season and was defeated Friday by Connellsville by the score of 10 to 6. Burgess Robert Warman threw the first ball. Uniontown pitchers were touched up for 18 hits. Score by innings:
Connellsville... 1 0 2 3 2 0 2 0—10
Uniontown... 0 0 0 4 0 0 0 2—6

Batteries: Connellsville—Furssendon and Baughman; Uniontown, McCarty, Fisher and Rutherford.

VETERAN DIES.

He till he was exchanged. Mr. Lang was twice married. His first wife was reared near Richmond, Va. He met her when in the army and married her in 1848. Her name was Sarah Powelson. She died in a few years after their marriage. In 1876 he married Miss Cynthia Ann Casteel of Allentown. His home had been here for over 40 years and he had been highly respected enjoying the confidence of the whole community.

Mr. Lang upon leaving the war took up mining, where he contracted asthma. He has been unable to work for the last few years. Five weeks ago he took his bed. His trouble was senile gangrene of the left foot and leg. Though realizing, he had a slight chance for recovery he went to the West Penn hospital and had his leg removed. He never rallied right from the operation. His body was brought home Friday afternoon and arrangements made to hold the funeral from the Allentown M. E. church on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Cummings will have charge of the funeral services. Interment will be in Mt. Tabor cemetery.

Mr. Lang is survived by his wife, Mrs. C. A. Lang; by six daughters: Mrs. Fred W. Ryland, of Eighty-Four; Mrs. L. J. Goodwin of Monessen; Mrs. J. Warren Crumrine of Bentleyville and by Hattie J., Mary E. and Margaret, still at home, by two sons, Lewis A. Lang of Bentleyville and Charles S. Lang at home. He is also survived by an adopted son, William Lang Rowleson of California.

DON'TS FOR GOOD ROADS' DAY USE

Don't make an enemy of your friend before May 26.

Don't think the days work is done when the sun disappears back of a dark cloud, there will be more sunshine.

Don't stop to admire the scenery, that's an old soldier gag.

Don't get in the way of the steam roller unless you want to take a rest.

Don't forget to put a pair of canvas gloves on as blisters will be plentiful.

Don't expect a cool breeze, only hot air will float around on this occasion.

Don't say "I'll say I will," but go to it.

Don't say you'll do the tango the evening after for you won't. Yellow streaks will be prominent with certain advocates of Good Roads May 26. is the opinion of Manager Schaefer who is busy enlisting the sturdy workmen.

Don't think because you are attentive to your wife that you will be excused on this grand day of labor.

It is difficult to convince Hughey Rush, who is a self-made man that he has cheated the county out of one day's labor each year, although we are very much elated over the report which came to us in an indirect way that he is considering the proposition of working on May 26.

The world doesn't love a man who won't work.

"Bill" Gaut is working for the movie today but come out and see him hustling for good roads next Tuesday. Through the influence of Tiffany Night the Coco Cola company has donated a barrel of dope to the workers so there'll be no delays waiting for a shot.

VALUE OF PROPER SPELLING

Attribute Highly Valued in Commercial Life, and is a Sense to Be Developed.

Good spelling and intelligent punctuation are the accomplishments that keep many gray-haired women drawing good salaries as stenographers in downtown offices. The manager of a typewriting office from which are sent hundreds of stenographers makes no secret of the fact that good spellers are scarce.

"We had a customer come in the other day," said the manager, "who had evidently had a run of hard luck in the spelling line. He wanted a woman who could spell. 'No matter if she's cross-eyed and has a hunch on her back,' he said, 'if she can spell and write an intelligent letter.' While this was a rather extreme case it shows that employers are beginning to grow impatient over the careless spelling of today."

Another office sending out many stenographers has a series of test letters prepared especially with spelling catches for the unwary. Common words, famous as pitfalls for careless spellers, are strewn throughout these specimen letters. Fully half the applicants put an extra e in separate; in many cases the e before the last syllable in noticeable is missing, while the correct placing of the l's in the word parallel reduces many of the applicants to a state of discouragement.

"Good spelling is a pretty sure sign of mental alertness," said a business man with several offices and many stenographers. "I find that if one of our stenographers is naturally a good speller she is interested in the correct spelling and use of new words that come to her attention in reading or in dictation. Now as a matter of fact it is no small job to keep up with the spelling of the hundreds of new words."

"Our oldest stenographer and our best speller keeps on her desk a little book not more than an inch thick, but it has more first aids to poor spellers than anything I've ever seen. She doesn't use it much, but everybody else does."—Chicago Record-Herald.

UNDERSTOOD ALL THE REST

On Only One Comparatively Unimportant Point Was the Juror at Fault.

It quite often happens that in addressing a jury, the lawyers will deliver their appeals to the one member who seems to them the most intelligent. They consider that by so doing they can impress him and his influence upon the other members will be valuable.

In a recent case, all the testimony had been taken, the lawyers had summed up and the judge had charged the jury, when the juror who appeared the most intelligent, and to whom both counsel had made their impassioned appeal, arose, and stated that he wished the court to give him some information.

"I have been bothered a great deal," he said, "about two words the lawyers have been using all the time."

"What are they?" asked the court, expecting to be called upon to explain the meaning of some words like "res inter alios acta."

"Why, the words that I don't know the meaning of," said the juror, "are 'plaintiff' and 'defendant'."—Exchange.

An Improving World.

A somewhat old-fashioned Bostonian who more than a score of years ago, was very prominent in public life remarked recently: "I have observed with interest quite a change in the personal habits of men during the past 25 years. It used to be very common to see business and professional men, as well as those in public life and holding official positions, wearing silk hats and Prince Albert coats every day in the week, and if they smoked at all they smoked cigars. Nowadays silk hats are rarely seen on week days downtown, anyway, and cigarette smoking seems to be quite the thing. I do not think the new fashion is quite so dignified or manly as the old, but on the whole I am convinced the world is growing better all the time."

Horse's Tobacco Habit Is Expensive. A Beverly teamster is lamenting the fact that his horse has acquired the tobacco habit and he is wondering if his employer would "stand for" an expense account.

The horse, which started in one the habit by taking an occasional nibble of "fine cut," now expects a plug a day and the driver says the animal will "loaf on the job" unless he receives that allowance.

The habit has become an expensive one for the driver, and he declares it has reached a point where he must do one of two things, quit using tobacco himself or get "the boss" to advance money for the horse's share.—Boston Post.

"Rabbit Drives" Advocated.

The western farmer dislikes the coyote, and a bounty is offered for its pelt; the result is that the coyotes have greatly diminished. But, says the Portland Oregonian, the killing of the coyotes has resulted in a great increase of rabbits; many experiments have been made to diminish their number by inoculating them with disease, but without satisfactory results. Rabbit "drives" are the only sure remedy; 16,000 jack rabbits were killed in one county in Oregon in this way last winter.

CLAYBAUGH & MILLIKEN

The Great Money Savers of the World

in the last twenty-five years have been the French middle class.

This has been accomplished by the most rigid self denial and the doing without of luxuries which are considered necessary comforts by Americans of the same class.

The Frenchman cuts his garment of daily needs according to the cloth of his earning ability, and sees to it that there are good big generous scraps left for the rainy day account.

Americans may well learn a lesson from their thrifty neighbors across the sea. In this land of plenty everyone can be laying by something, even if it be a very little.
